Congressman Browne has sent to E. A. Parker the commission of Hugh Molloy, Mr. Parker's grandfather, as ensign in the army of the revolution. It was made out in Boston, November 6, 1776, and signed by John Hancock, President, and Charles Thompson, Secretary of Congress. Mr. Molloy was at Valley Forge, and he resigned in 1781. In 1816 he moved to Williamsburg, O., where he died in 1847, aged ninety. His grandson, R. C. Herrick, is Executive Clerk for Governor Gray.

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Charles Warner and Cyrus McClelland Struck by a Big Four Train and Barely Escape Death—The Latter Internally Injured.

Charles Warner, a traveling man, and Cyrus McClelland, a tinner, narrowly escaped death at the Fifth street crossing of the I. & St. L. and O. Road, shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They were riding in a light spring wagon, behind a spirited horse, and when they reached this crossing the Big Four mail due here at 3:30 p. m. was approaching rapidly from the north. Warner whipped up the horse expecting to get across before the train arrived, and they would have succeeded had it not been that the animal became frightened and stopped directly on the track and began prancing about, refusing either to back or go forward. The engineer realized the danger that the two men were in, but was too close to stop his train, and the engine struck the frail wagon with tremendous force, smashing it into splinters and instantly killing the horse. The two occupants were thrown to one side of the track, and when persons near by hurried to the scene they found that McClelland had received a bad cut in the back of the head, from which blood was flowing freely, while Warner was but slightly bruised about the body and face. Both men were picked up and removed to their homes in Plummer & Hornum's ambulance, where they received medical attention. Both reside on West Market street. Warner at 321 and McClelland at 315. McClelland, who has just recovered from a serious illness, complained last night of being hurt internally, and appeared to be suffering great pain. Dr. Marce thinks, however, he will recover. The horse and wagon was the property of Warner, and the two men were driving west when the train struck them.

Fires.

The Belt Road water tank at the crossing of Pleasant Run, which was burned Monday, caught from the sparks of a passing engine. Both tanks were destroyed and the loss will foot up $8,000. The intense heat caused an explosion of the boiler supplying the steam pumps and the pieces were thrown several hundred feet.

The residence of J. L. Fisher, 48 Huron street, was damaged $25 worth yesterday by reason of a defective flue.

A small fire in an old smoke house in the rear of Milt Ponder's shop, 232 East Washington street, caused the fire department a run yesterday afternoon. Loss 75 cents.

At a late hour Monday night the residence of Carlin Hamlin at Allisonville was burned, the result of a defective flue. Loss $1,200 with partial insurance.

There were three fires along the line of the Air Line road yesterday. One of these was the Sheets property at Broad Ripple, which has been used as a railway station, a store, and a residence. The loss is about $2,500, with some insurance. There was a fire reported at Rossville, two business blocks and three houses being consumed. A fire at Kirkland destroyed one storeroom and two dwelling houses.

"This for Remembrance"

Miss Lizzie Annandale was presented last night with a beautiful floral offering by the Western Union telegraph operators of this city. The following card accompanied the gift:

As a slight token of our esteem for you growing out of your kindness rendered our Baltimore brethren during the strike of 1883, we gladly avail ourselves of the opportunity of expressing in floral sentiments our hearty appreciation of your noble service in worthy cause. In this feeble effort on our part, it is gratifying to know that the same is in keeping with the action of our brother craftsmen in other places where you have been the recipient of similar contributions, thus striving with flowers the pathway of a gallant volunteer in a grand struggle for justice. The flowers will fade, but the sentiments herein expressed will ever remain fresh in memory of the name of Lizzie Annandale.

STRIKING TELEGRAPHISTS OF INDIANAPOLIS.

The following acknowledgment was made by the lady:
INDIANAPOLIS, March 24.
Miss Lizzie Annandale returns to her friends, the Western Union telegraph operators, for their very generous tribute, her most sincere thanks and heartfelt appreciation, with the assurance that she will remember the beautiful floral incident long after the lovely flowers have faded. Yours, most respectfully,
LIZZIE ANNANDALE.

A Family Brawl.

Last night Harry Hamilton, residing at 122 Virginia avenue, went home slightly under the influence of liquor and soon became engaged in a war of words with his wife, who finally seized a poker and thumped him about and face, cutting a long gash in his chin. Joseph Yarn, a son of Mrs. Hamilton by her first husband, took a hand in the melee and rendered his mother some very valuable assistance. Shortly after the conclusion of the row Captain Colbert and Sergeant Low arrived and placed the trio under arrest. Hamilton's wounds were dressed by Police Surgeon Hodges.

HOW THEY ARE TALKING.

"Oh, Mrs. W., I'm so glad I've met you. I want you to go with me to Mr. Gall's Carpet House and help me choose one of his beautiful Tapestry Carpets."

"With the greatest pleasure, my dear. I was there yesterday, and was delighted with my visit. His salesmen are so obliging, and they match the Carpets out on the floor so you can have an idea just how they will look."

"Yes, and they don't hurry you up or importune you to buy. And the Borders for the Carpets are superb. Mr. Gall's method of showing Carpets is just lovely."

"Mrs. J. has just bought one of Mr. Gall's rich and elegant Velvet Carpets, with a magnificent Border. It is the latest design. You his purchases for the Spring and Summer trade comprise the most desirable goods ever brought to this market."

"Oh, yes, I know that. I forgot to ask if you saw the beautiful Plushes Mr. Gall is now showing?"

"Indeed I did. What a delightful variety in colors. And then 1c Embroidery Patterns—how cheap and how rich! You know you buy the Plush and make the designs yourself, if you choose, if Mr. es not happen to have the design you want."
